

An Overview of Filtration Media

This presentation will describe various filter media with their typical attributes and common applications, as well as providing an overview of Midwest Filtration and their products and services.

Shannon Schoppman, New Business Development Manager,

Midwest Filtration LLC

Shannon is a product management, product development and sales professional with 20 years of experience combining technical knowledge in film, fiber-based and nonwoven materials. Prior to coming to Midwest Filtration she held product management, product development and sales management roles at such companies as Lydall Performance Materials, Freudenberg Filtration Technologies, Ahlstrom Nonwovens, and Fiberweb Americas. Shannon is a codeveloper on two patents. Shannon holds a Bachelor of Science in Chemistry from Clemson University, Clemson, South Carolina.